WHEREAS, public transportation is vested with public interest and various laws have been enacted to regulate the matter, including the laws on common carriers, as well as statutes such as Republic Act No. 4136, as amended, otherwise known as the "Land Transportation and Traffic Code";

WHEREAS, amidst national regulations on land transportation and road traffic, transportation has seldom benefitted from social welfare programs that promote the welfare of the Filipino people, especially the poor and the marginalized;

WHEREAS, restrictions in mobility brought about by adverse social circumstances can create a vicious cycle that ultimately prevents a person from seeking and securing gainful work, from access to education, or from availing of government services and social welfare interventions that could improve his or her well-being, as well as that of his or her family or community;

WHEREAS, exigencies have brought about the need to view safe and reliable public transportation as an integral aspect of how local governments serve their constituents, and this can be perfectly seen from the Quezon City Government's efforts through the Q City Bus Program;

WHEREAS, the launch and implementation of the Quezon City Government's Q City Bus Program had been effective in providing additional means of transportation to commuters and help ease traffic congestion in the City's streets and thoroughfares, thereby contributing to an increase in the quality of life of many of the City's residents;

WHEREAS, the Q City Bus Program has been lauded as a pioneering and inspiring initiative of the City Mayor, Honorable Ma. Josefina G. Belmonte; and since its start in December 2020, it has catered to more than twelve (12) million passengers along its eight (8) routes;

WHEREAS, the organizational and operational concept behind the Q City Bus Program can be referenced in the Philippine Development Plan 2023-2028, which described such programs as "innovative" and promoted the pursuit and expansion of service contracting programs for public utility vehicles (p. 247);

WHEREAS, while the Q City Bus Program has been originally introduced to address the need for a reliable, efficient, and safe means of transportation amidst the spread of the COVID-19 pandemic that limited public transportation in Metro Manila, the Program has even become more important with the increase in fuel costs and fare prices, and disruptions in public transportation;
